

The Positive Playcaresm Admissions Process

The goal of the Admissions Process is to provide all our dogs with the safest possible circumstances in which to play, learn and grow.

For most dogs, daycare is an entirely new social environment. Even a romp at the dog park is very different as your dog usually has you around to provide a personal connection and supervision. Though we wish we could open our doors to every dog, not every dog wants to be, or should be, in dog daycare. We conduct a careful screening and orientation process to safeguard all the dogs in our care.

At Your Dog's Best Friendssm, we have developed a temperament evaluation specifically designed to provide us with insight into which dogs will adapt to and enjoy our Positive Playcaresm. We perform our temperament evaluation as part of your dog's Orientation Day Program. On that day, specially trained members of our staff conduct a physically and socially interactive "interview" with your dog to evaluate your dog's comfort level with being in the highly social environment of a dog daycare.

We begin building our special relationship with you and your dog by carefully reviewing the documentation and questionnaires that you provide. This review happens as soon as your file is complete. After the file is reviewed, we call you to schedule your Orientation Day. The documentation and questionnaires cover three areas:

- A. Owner Profile: This information is used by our staff to learn about how we can best support your relationship with your dog.
- B. Pet Profile: Our Positive Playcaresm Department reviews this information to get acquainted with your dog before orientation.
- C. Medical Clearance: Our Positive Playcaresm Department checks this information to ensure the health and safety of all dogs attending playcare. For all dogs 16 weeks of age and older, we require documentation that reflects current Rabies and Bordetella vaccines. Our requirement for the DHLPP vaccine is either a current vaccine date or a current titer report. Puppies, between the ages of 10 - 16 weeks, must have age appropriate vaccines. Puppy owners will also be required to provide us with vaccine booster records as they are received. Dogs must be neutered or spayed by seven (7) months.

Orientation Day is an exciting time for you, your dog and us. It is a day designed to let us conduct the temperament evaluation and to follow-up with a carefully monitored period of introducing your dog to the rest of the dogs with which s/he will soon be playing and learning.

Throughout the day our staff is attentive to the interactions as our experienced dogs welcome our newest member of Positive Playcaresm.

The following sequence of events takes place:

Welcome: We meet you and your dog at our front door at your scheduled appointment time. You are introduced to our staff and see where your dog will spend a fun-filled day.

Temperament Evaluation: Temperament evaluation involves a series of specific structured interactions designed to give us information to ensure your dog will thrive in the highly social environment of Positive Playcaresm. This evaluation takes about 20 to 30 minutes and we ask you to stay on the premises during this time. The vast majority of dogs will demonstrate the necessary qualifications to enter Positive Playcare but, in the unlikely case that we find a safety concern, we might not be able to advance to the next step.*

Controlled Introduction: The process of introducing your dog into the playgroup and to the members of our staff is methodical and carefully conducted. The results of the temperament evaluation help us plan and guide that introduction.

To begin, our staff introduces your dog, one by one, to a representative mix of dogs with different play styles. Then, we allow your dog to interact simultaneously with a number of dogs presenting a mix of play styles. Before your dog is admitted into the large playgroup, your dog, accompanied by some of his newest friends and a member of the staff, spends time in a separate area of the playroom getting acclimated to the surroundings and to the incredible level of upbeat dog energy in the room.

Monitoring: The orientation process lasts throughout the day. We devote special care and attention to monitor a new dog's progress in the playgroup. We watch and guide how s/he learns to play and interact with dogs of different play styles. Just as with humans, first impressions are so important.

We set aside time in the activities sessions on your dog's Orientation Day to carefully observe and assess your dog's best activities and to catch those aspects of their personality that we can work with best. We keep an eye on the games and rewards they prefer, their confidence and interest in learning and the temperaments and play styles they are drawn to or avoid. You can sometimes tell a lot by the friends they pick.

Follow Up: At the end of a successful Orientation Day your dog has had an exceptional amount of stimulation. While dogs are very often tired after daycare, on this night your dog may be so tired they opt out of an evening meal. This is normal! This is simply due to the fact that they had a new environment to explore and new people and dogs to meet. They simply have experienced more mental and physical stimulation than they are used to.

When you arrive to pick up your dog at the end of a successful Orientation Day, our Positive Playcaresm staff will greet you and let you know how much fun your dog had. We will also answer any of your remaining questions and be sure you know how to make arrangements for enrolling your dog for future Positive Playcaresm sessions.

Then you will head home with a very happy best friend.

While most dogs have an appropriate temperament for daycare, it is not for every dog. We will always look for the best in every dog but the safety of all our dogs must be our highest priority.

A Day at Positive Playcaresm

A day at Positive Playcaresm can begin promptly at 7AM. (Please ask about arrangements for earlier drop off.) The day is broken into periods of play, structured activities and rest.

Your dog starts his/her day with the first of three play periods. Dogs can romp and wrestle with their friends in designated play groups while other dogs arrive. Dogs are placed into play groups with other dogs of similar age, size, temperament, and play style. Safe, happy dogs are our first concern! This is where supervision by their Playcare Specialist (PS) comes in. The PS not only supervises the play but maintains the group's dynamics and redirects dogs to avoid overly excited play.

DAILY SCHEDULE
7 AM to 10 AM 10 AM to Noon Noon to 2 PM 2 PM to 3 PM 3 PM to 5 PM 5 PM to 7 PM	Play Activities Nap & Lunch Play Activities Play

Once all the dogs have had a chance to socialize for a bit, the morning activities begin. In these sessions dogs are encouraged to participate in both individual and group activities. These activities allow the dogs' Playcare Specialist to interact with the dogs in ways that help the dogs adopt and maintain appropriate behaviors, strengthen impulse control, and build their enthusiasm for learning. Activities are designed for each play group keeping in mind the temperaments, play styles and preferred rewards of the dogs that are participating. They challenge the dogs to discover new ways to think, behave and learn and to foster positive relationships between the people and other dogs in their playgroup.

Morning activities are followed by a very well deserved nap. Dogs are placed in individual crates and given a small snack or, when owners request, their lunch. (Lunches must be provided by the dog's owner.) Nap time allows the dogs to rest for their afternoon at Positive Playcaresm, as well as process the information from the first half of the day. It also decreases the likelihood of crankiness in the afternoon.

After nap time, both the dogs and their PS return to their respective play groups fresh and ready for more mental and physical stimulation. The dogs' first order of business is typically a good stretch and lively play session to prepare their minds and bodies for an afternoon of fun. As always, their PS is on hand to ensure safety and fun.

Just like the morning activities session, afternoon activities give the PS the opportunity to provide the dogs with structured positive reinforcement for appropriate behaviors. The record of experience with dog behavioral development shows that giving a dog a break and then reimmersing them in a structured session creates a far greater impression on the dog. The second activities session of the Positive Playcaresm day acts as significant reinforcement to deepen the impact of the morning session and build the dog's awareness and confidence.

Dog owners usually arrive to pick their dogs up between 5 and 7 PM. During this third and final play period of the day the dogs are again encouraged to romp, wrestle, and play.

When you pick up your dog, you will be greeted by a happy, contented friend who has been mentally and physically stimulated and rewarded for appropriate behaviors throughout the day.
